

Abridged Biography | Dr Bernadette Johnson

Dr Bernadette Johnson is the Director: Transformation and Employment Equity at the University of the Witwatersrand. She has experience in Higher Education with 14 years at Executive and Senior Management level in the university, government and the non-governmental sector. She has also worked on the National Committee on the Next Generations of Black Scholars Programme which formed the foundation of the now nGap Programme in universities.

Other areas of include her work at PALAMA facilitating Strategic Planning, Strategic Leadership and Change Management to senior government official in South Africa, Lesotho, Burundi, South Sudan and Rwanda. She has also worked at the Southern Research and Innovation Managers Association (SARIMA) as Research Project Manager.
